Problems for Jury

Over two matters of consequence throughout Hancock County presented to the grand jury at its convening Monday morning at press time. The grand jury at press time made up of non-judges in January for some time in various positions they are alleged to have committed.

Several months ago, a local business was relieved of a sizeable amount of spirituous liquors by two Hancock County constables and a month or so later was robbed of both liquor and money.

Sheriff Price, after his investigation, swore out or had sworn out warrants against four people alleged to have been involved in the robbery. One is out on bond and two are in the process of being returned from California. The name of the fourth has not yet been released by the sheriff or by the district attorney.

Rumor has it that several others are involved in the robbery. As far as the Echo is concerned it is still rumor but we are curious.

Meter Firm Won't Void Contract

Duncan Parking Meter Co. has declined to void its contract with Bay St. Louis as requested by the City Commission Council following a plea by merchants that meters are hurting business.

R. J. Smoot, assistant vice president and director of sales with the firm wrote that the one-year trial lease is dated May 7, 1960, and the contract will continue in effect to its conclusion.

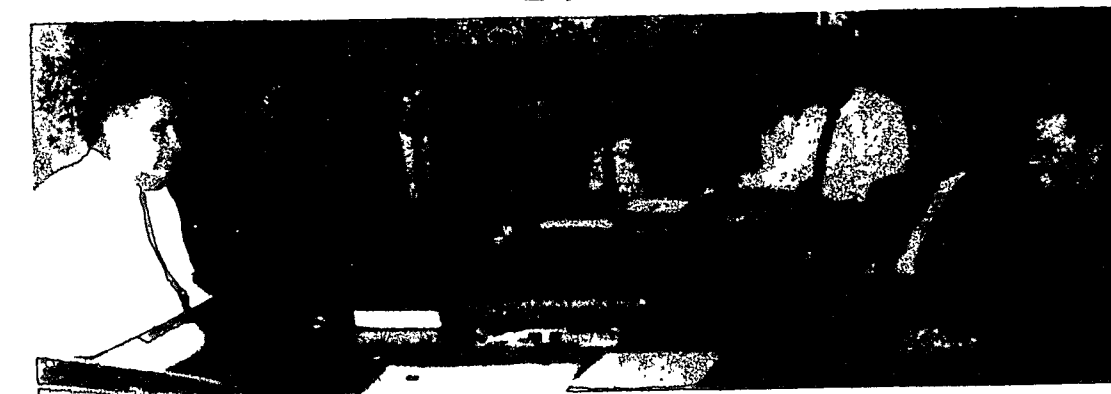

Smoot commented that "It is unfortunate that the merchants of your city's business area have adopted this attitude toward metered parking since statistics prove that the merchant within the metered area is a direct beneficiary of all benefits derived from metered controlled parking as a result of a constant turnover in curb parking traffic."

"It is our sincere hope," Smoot continued, "that the merchants in your area will view the meter installation objectively and permit it to demonstrate its value by permitting the maximum number of motorists to utilize each parking space during the store hours of the business district."

The rapidly growing number of automobiles registered in all sections of the country only emphasizes the need for curb parking control.

Mayor John A. Scafide pointed out that the meters were installed in June and that there (Cont. on Page 4.)

DISASTER DISCUSSION - State Aid Engineers Frank T. Moore and B. L. Broome, far end of table, discuss with the board of supervisors means for obtaining state and federal aid in rebuilding bridges and roads washed out during recent heavy rains.

The board of supervisors voted to support efforts to stop relocation of headquarters of Montgomery and New Orleans Division from New Orleans to Montgomery after a letter was read from Paul M. Miller, mobile mail clerk and long time Bay St. Louis resident.

Miller noted that 31 men now under supervision of the postmaster in New Orleans would be placed under supervision of the Montgomery postmaster. Several of these men, including himself, live on the Mississippi Coast, he said, and the change would force them to move to the Montgomery area.

Both clerk Claiborne Ladner and Board President R. G. Hubbard, Jr., said they had already written to U. S. Senators James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis asking them to protest the relocation and Ladner was directed to write in behalf of the entire board.

Two members of the State Aid Road Division, Frank T. Moore, state aid engineer, and B. L. Broome, state aid district engineer working with the southeastern part of the state including Hancock County, appeared to discuss technical matters concerning road building and proper application for state aid.

Moore congratulated members on the way state aid roads were maintained in the county citing 8.4 miles of roadways on which a seal had been placed in Beat 2. He said the future of state aid roads in Mississippi depended greatly upon the way (Cont. on Page 4.)

N. Central Gets Flag In Memory of Weston

Mrs. E. C. Weston of Kiln presented a new 50-star American flag to North Central School in memory of her late husband, Coney Weston, during ceremonies this morning.

Mrs. Weston presented the flag to Leo Rouse, superintendent of North Central. J. C. Harrell, principal of the high school, introduced Green Seal, science teacher and long time friend of Mr. Weston, who reviewed his life.

Mrs. Joseph Boardman, sister of the former board president, and Mrs. Mary Roberts, his niece, both of Hattiesburg, also were introduced. The pledge of allegiance was given by the pupils and the Star Spangled Banner was sung as the new flag was raised.

Mr. Weston was the first president of the first elected county wide school board and worked on the consolidation of schools that resulted in the establishing of North Central. He died last November.

In addition he was a former president of the Hancock County Farm Bureau and the Mississippi Forestry Assn. He served in the Army four years and was overseas two years during World War II. Weston obtained the rank of major in the Corps of Engineers.

At the time of his death he raised appaloosa horses and was a tree farmer.

Fenton Man Faces Charges Of Moonshining

John Koenann, 52, of Fenton, was arrested by U. S. Treasury agents during a raid last weekend, Howard Vidrine, investigator for the Gulfport Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division office, reported.

He was charged with possession and operation of an illicit distillery, possession of moonshine and possession of non tax paid whiskey. Date of hearing before U. S. Commissioner Irene Hebert was not announced this week.

Highway Engineers Pledge Drain Aid

Two state highway engineers yesterday said immediate steps will be taken to end drainage problems at two locations along U.S. 90.

J. F. Brownlee and Robert Neuchomber told Mayor John A. Scafide they will order the study near Second Street and Ulman and Carroll Avenues.

They inspected the two locations with the mayor and engineer Lucien Raymond to check how, due to draining problems, the areas are flooded with every heavy rain.

Brownlee said he had been told of a drainage problem but had understood it was with low water, not flood water.

During a session of City Commission Council Wednesday the mayor also told plans to ask the state to install a blinker light at U.S. 90 and Second Avenue. He said he has been told that the highway is so wide to cross at that point and many east-bound motorists speed up in order to make the light at U.S. 90 and Beach Blvd.

Evans Pair Due Saturday

Eugene and Charles Leslie Evans, suspects in the December hijacking of a Steffel Bros. liquor truck, will arrive in Bay St. Louis about 6 p.m. Saturday in custody of Deputy Sheriffs Gerald V. Price, Jr., Roland LaFontaine and Lander Necaise.

The deputies accompanied the Evans brothers from Fairfield, Calif., where they were arrested over a month ago. They will be placed in the county jail to await action by the grand jury which convenes Monday.

City Okeys Arts Shop At Bay High

City Commission Council Wednesday examined preliminary plans for a $37,800 industrial arts shop addition to Bay High School and voted to pay its share of the construction.

Joseph D. McCulloch, superintendent of the Municipal Separate School District, explained that courses are now taught in an old "condemned" building and said the new shop was included in the district's long range planning program prepared about six years ago.

He noted that the State Education Finance Commission has advised it will pay $7.50 per square foot for the building. McCulloch said on this basis the 4,300 square foot building would cost the district between $6,000 and $8,000, the state paying about $32,000.

New Market Opens

A new market has opened for hardwood growers and that the first large load of the wood will leave Kiln this week for Moss Point, Sam Whitfield, pulpwood dealer, reported this week.

Whitfield said that while previously there was relatively little need for hardwood, International Paper Co. recently gave him an order for 100 cords per week on a permanent basis.

The wood will be shipped primarily from his Kiln operation through the Jordan River and along the Gulf to the Moss Point mill. Previously all the wood shipped from Kiln was pine and very little hardwood is sent from the Lakeshore operation by rail.

Hardwood Shipped

Whitfield said the hardwood includes gum, bay, magnolia, poplar and various other trees. He said the shipments of mixed hardwood must include at least 60 per cent gum.

The pulpwood dealer noted that the new market for hardwood is important for the timber growers in Hancock County since it will provide an additional outlet for their product.

Dr. D. C. Rudeen and Dr. W. W. Oser, both of Picayune, have opened offices in Pearl River for the practice of general medicine. Hours will be from 5 until 6 p.m. weekdays and 3 until 4 p.m. Saturdays.

Mayor's Race

The Echo is both glad and regretful that Justice of the Peace Russell Elliott is going to run for mayor of Bay St. Louis. We are glad because we like JP Elliott and think he shows promise of being a good public servant and it is hard to persuade such people to ask for the headaches that automatically go with election.

In 1959, the Echo editorially supported JP Elliott for his present office. It feels that he has done a good job in it, particularly in view of his previous lack of experience concerning matters legal. But there our gladness ends.

The incumbent, Mayor John Scifield, is at least equally able and has the advantage of eight years experience in the office (including, with a smile on our face, experience in operating road construction equipment). We think he has done a good job as mayor and the Echo does not believe in firing good employees on a whim, whether they be its own or the public's.

As matters now stand, this paper expects to urge reelection of Mayor Scifield, at least insofar as JP Elliott's candidacy is involved. Nevertheless, as the campaign develops, it is more than possible JP Elliott or some other candidate will show us that our present view is wrong.

Some ten days ago we ran into a passenger of a train which he had taken after four cancellations of air travel. The straw that made him switch means of transportation came when he waited at Washington's airport for his plane reported "on time". On asking what gate he should go to he was told the plane would not land. When he balked and said "you have it reported on time", the answer given was "oh, it'll arrive on time and depart on time, it just won't land".

We don't know whether that was worse than the routine given him from Washington to his destinations, Oklahoma City and Houston. The routine was Washington to Dallas to Oklahoma City to Tulsa to Dallas to Houston to New Orleans to Mobile to Washington. They did let him bypass all small towns.

Hancock Needs Third of Goal In Bond Sales

January Savings Bonds sales in Hancock County totaled $22,442, Andy J. Becker, county chairman announces.

He noted this is 29.92 per cent of the $75,000 goal for 1961, again placing Hancock on the Mississippi honor roll of the top 20 counties, those averaging better than 14.37 per cent at this time.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the savings bond program. They were first called defense bonds, then war bonds, and, since World War II, savings bonds.

Becker Named Head Of Cancer Crusade

Postmaster Andy J. Becker has been named Hancock County chairman for the 1961 Cancer Crusade.

Becker said he is setting plans for a meeting soon and a call for volunteers will be sent out as soon as a date is set. The drive starts April 1 with a goal of $1,200, Becker said.

The chairman explained that the funds are needed for research, education and care of cancer patients. He noted that "if we are to take advantage of promising new developments in cancer research and apply current knowledge to the broad avenues of explanation not open to us, we must sharply step up this program."

The engineers were questioned about help in repairing damage done by recent heavy rains and both agreed the work appeared eligible for emergency aid subject to inspection by state and federal officials. County engineer Arthur McArthur said he had ready applied for the necessary funds.

A hearing was set for March 20 on whether or not to open Old Road leading from what was Joe Lader's place, now owned by Edna Lader, running past Ker. at Lader's and crossing State Highway 603 after a petition was presented. Clerk Lader was directed to write Alvin Lader notifying him of the date.

Otho Rester was reappointed representative of the Mississippi Regional Housing Authority for a five-year term.

Approval was granted for $500 to the Hancock County Civil War Centennial to be paid out of the advertising fund. A donation of $100 to the American Red Cross was also approved.

Albert Switzer of Albert Switzer and Associates, Inc., submitted an offer in book form on the proposed industrial development of the county estimating the cost of the initial step at about $12,000 and saying the money could be obtained from the House and Home Financing Agency.

Board Attorney Lucien Guegan said he knew of no statute providing for allocation of such funds and asked Switzer to check with his firm's attorneys and advise him further.

After agreeing to hear representatives of two more engineering firms at a future meeting members voted to close interviewing of these representatives. Seven firms will have been interviewed.

Bids on a new communication system were again held over after Sheriff Gerald Price said approval of Civil Defense for payment of half the cost had not yet been received from director Clarence Lader.

H. Hardin Shattuck, manager of Coast Electric Power Assn., asked cooperation of the board in removal of utility poles in connection with building of new Kiln Road. It was noted that the state would reimburse the county for cost of removal on state aid roads. Hubbard asked for further information so that a permanent agreement could be worked out.

At the request of McArthur the clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for a transit to be used in road construction. Mayor John Scalfie's request for county help in increasing size of drainage openings on the beach was tabled for investigation by county engineers.

Payment of $92.48 for past social security payments for A. Frank Selph was approved after it was agreed the money was due.

A letter from the public welfare department was read disclosing that during April May and June peanut butter, pork and groovy and dry beans would be distributed through the county welfare office.

Picayune Soldier In Winter Training

Army pfc, Arnold F. Matthews, son of Mrs. Gladys Matthews of Picayune, recently participated with other personnel from the 629th Medical Co. in Exercise Winter Shield II at the Grafenwohr-Hofenfeld training area in Germany.

The 28-year-old soldier is a 1950 graduate of Picayune Memorial High School and attended Pearl River Junior College.

Becker said although one in three is being saved from cancer today science has already provided the means to save one in two. Means that will enable us to reach into every home with life-saving cancer messages must be found in the days ahead, he added.

A district American Cancer Society kick-off meeting will be at 2 p.m. today in Jackson.

Disaster Planning Continues

The functions of various organizations in case of disaster were discussed Friday at a community disaster planning session in Hancock General Hospital.

Thomas O. Logue, hospital administrator, said the organizations accepting specific responsibilities in case of emergency included the county health department, hospital auxiliary, Hancock County chapter of the American Red Cross, the civil defense committee of the city and county and the local government.

Now that each organization has said what it could do in emergency another meeting has been set for 5:30 p.m. Friday to coordinate these various functions into a disaster plan so that each group and official would know what others are doing. The meeting will be in Hancock General Hospital.

Architect Fred Wagner showed council his preliminary floor plan for the addition which the superintendent said would be a separate building in back of the present structure and parallel to Carroll Avenue. It would be connected to the rest of the school with a canopy covered walk. McCulloch said the building, 104 by 34 feet, would be adequate for at least 20 years.

McCulloch explained the state will not approve the plans or provide its share unless it is stated in the beginning that the additional money, over and above the state share, will be available. Mayor John A. Scalfie said "whatever local funds that have to be raised will be" and authorized McCulloch to advise the state that short term notes will be made available immediately on request.

fore the company will be instructed to remove the meters within 30 days from the date the meters were installed a year ago.

Thirty-four Beach and Main Street merchants petitioned the city to remove the meters, charging they are harmful to business and are discriminatory since other business areas are unmetered.

Commissioner of Finance Warren Traub reported at Commission Council's meeting Monday an estimated 3,358 vehicles using the parking meters last week. Sunday $53.58 was collected for the week.

P-TA Has Program

Students of Christ Episcopal Day School presented a musical recital at the Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting last month.

Mrs. Frank Robert was in charge of the program. Students of the kindergarten department under the direction of Mrs. Louis R. Stehling sang five songs.

Piano solos were performed by Dottie Nell Rausch, Nancy McDonald, Nancy Allen, Pamela Pitt, Jimmie Haik, Ellen McDonald and Lorraine deMontuzin. Holly Reuhl sang and Carla Marshall played two accordion solos.

The program closed with an ensemble, "Singing Walks," played by Patty Guest, violin, George Byrne, clarinet, David Byrne, trumpet and Billy Kimbrell, drums.

Waveland Due Two More Street Lights

Waveland Town Council approved two street light requests Tuesday, two more than authorized in its budget for the fiscal year.

One light is to be installed on Vacation Lane as requested in a letter from Ralph Shelton and L. D. Colby and the other is to be on Chadwick Street as asked by Henry Kothman.

Council had set its budget at 20 new street lights for the year. Last fall 12 lights were approved and recently 18 more were ordered, depleting the budget. Mayor Garfield Lader remarked at the session that if the lights are needed they should be installed.

He noted the town can afford the two additional lights.

Building permits totaling $2,500 were approved as follows: Elton Escobar, Waveland Street, house; William Bradford, Fourie Street, open porch and stove room, and J. McMurry, Waveland Avenue garage.

A three-year burglary insurance policy was ordered renewed effective March 8. The premium is $252.51 with $121 to be paid by the water and gas department and the balance by the town.

Standard Accident Insurance Co. notified the town it is in communication with Gulf Paving Co. of Gulfport regarding the idlerman's complaint that the paving company has failed to complete a street contract. The company holds a $28,000 bond deposited by Gulf Paving. Council wrote to Gulf Paving.

Heart Fund Drive Falls Below Goal

Tight money and the general economic conditions have been blamed for a failure of the Hancock County Heart Fund Drive to reach its goal for the first time in six years.

Mrs. C. R. Beyer, county chairman, said the donations fell nearly $300 under the $1,200 goal. Donations total $930.50 to date. The chairman said this is a relatively final figure.

She explained that while during the past six years the Heart Fund drive has been conducted here several times collections went far over the goal. However, she said this year people just didn't give and that those who gave big previous years gave very little this year.

Proceeds go to combat heart disease through research and education. Mrs. Beyer noted it is hoped that small heart centers can be established throughout Mississippi to disseminate information on heart disease.

ROOM OF THE MONTH - This honor for January at Pearl River Junior College went to Linda Strong, left, freshman from Bay St. Louis, and Johnnie Rue Dudley, freshman from Sunrall, in recognition of their use of low cost fabrics in decorating, neatness and attractiveness.

Gerri Blanchard and Chip spent last weekend in Vidalia, La., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Spell. Husband Sam was in Mobile checking on a business project.

Elaine Davis and the girls, Elaine, and Doris spent Friday in the Crescent City where they visited her grandmother, Mrs. J.J. Mummies and her father-in-law, Capt. "Cappy" Davis.

Piccola Dumestre Dietrich (who has graduated from Teen Times due to her recent marriage) bade her new husband, Louis, farewell Monday.

he's in the Navy and left for California and a tour of duty.

Piccola will still be teaching dancing in her school on Nicholson Ave.

Speaking of the Navy, Gladys Noonan reports that son Allan wrote her recently from Hong Kong and Richard, who is a sailor too, is somewhere around Pearl Harbor and should arrive home for a visit next month.

Sara and Lawrence Colby are looking forward to the imminent arrival of their grandson Michael Colby of New York City.

Michael will be accompanied by his mamma, Lisa and Mrs. Freida BeDocht from Nuremburg, Germany.

A.C. "Goober" Goodwin spent a few days in Waveland, but Kary kept him so busy working on their new home, that he said he would catch up on his rest when he returned to work on Tuesday.

Animal News

This should be a personal, I suppose, but as the purpose of Ray (Mrs. C.R.) Rasmussen's trip to Hattiesburg last weekend was to pick up her new thoroughbred colt we'll include it in this department.

Phyllis and Christie Sauer are most unhappy- their small black and white terrier "Tippy" disappeared two weeks ago and they're still searching for the pup- Dot and Jim Mayfield (who really need pets- they only have three horses, untemper dogs and heaven only knows how many birds, etc.) now have a new horse! They're in the process of constructing a barn for him.

Debbie Weldmann and Amy Lynch apparently did a rushing business at the little stand they had in front of the drug store Saturday- they were selling cookies and candy, the proceeds to go to a Mission- in fact they had a sign to explain just that, and were abut put out when everyone who passed asked the purpose of their endeavors.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Taylor- she was Audrey LaFontaine, who were wed last Saturday in the Bay.

Helen Mestayer and Betty Kennedy put their bridge prowess to good use when they tied for second place honors in the 19th Annual Crescent City bridge tournament Feb. 26 in the special women's pair competition.

Beulah and Sidney Bourgeois spent last Tuesday night and Wednesday in New Orleans where they were guests of Beulah's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Rossignol.

Fishing and Hunting

Not too much, however Dick Mestayer and Ray Gordon, both ardent anglers, are looking forward to catching freshwater trout and cat off of the seawall.

they are certain that the water will be that fresh due to the flooding of Pearl River and bayous!

On the Avenue

Lec Walters who reported that Fran and the girls were all suffering from colds, Mrs. Ruth Mettleur, who had just returned from a dental appointment, Dee O'Donnell, who, bless her, actually wanted to buy Girl Scout cookies - (don't bother to call her- my offspring still had a case to unload and I saw her first) Dorothy O'Neill in a very good looking brown sports outfit, Col. Phil Finn, who we haven't seen around for quite a while, Shirley Piazza- all five of her children had chicken pox.

just four are under the weather now! and a very dignified visitor from New York who had such a fascinating yellow, French-made car that I took in all the details including no springs, hydraulic suspension, pushbutton jacking for flats, etc. and neglected to ascertain his identity.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY- The real spring-like look of a softball game in full swing on the grounds of Waveland School, complete with assorted spectators, the very ambitious sea gull apparently racing cars on Beach Blvd. and those gorgeous red leafed trees, a colorful contrast against pale, yellow-green budding leaves in the background which can be seen all over town.

A Bob-Whites clear wall in the very early morn and the softer sound of the wind, now more of a whisper than a wall.

More next week from the poor man's Louella Parsons!

Aids in Rescue

Thomas J. Holzhauser, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Holzhauser of 248 Ballentine St., is serving aboard the destroyer USS Cowell, operating out of Long Beach, Calif.

He participated in the rescue of a Navy pilot whose airplane crashed after taking off from the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway, Dec. 9, in the Pacific.

Little League Season Opening Set for June 1

Opening games for the Little League baseball season will be June 1. Mrs. Theo Tudury, direc- tor of recreation, Parks and Playground Commission, said. Another meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 27 in the Knock Knock to set up playing dates, rules and regulations.

Eight teams of which this year's league will be composed were represented at the meet- ing. They are last year's champs, Trappin's, Knights of Columbus, Bay St. Louis Youth Center, Kila Youth Center, Coast Electric, Red Reinkie, Red Davis and Harold Kranke.

"The field is in pretty good shape," she said. "Work, in- cluding planting of grass, will be started as soon as weather permits."

All sponsors who partici- pated last year will again sponsor teams this year, she said. In addition, there will be a new league for eight-year-olds and the Merchants Bank has already been signed as a sponsor.

Mrs. Tudury said some of the boys have not turned in their uniforms from last season and will not be eligible to play this year until they have done so.

Men's Clubs Asked To Serve in Greys

Mens' organizations throughout Hancock County are being urged to appoint representatives to serve in the county unit of the Mississippi Greys to participate in Civil War centennial events.

Thomas O. Logue, vice chairman of the Local Centennial Committee and general for the Greys unit, said funeral, church, service and civic groups are being contacted and that individuals are also being urged to enlist.

At a meeting of the committee Friday it was voted to have an artillery unit formed to take part in any commemorative events along the Gulf Coast during the four-year Civil War centennial.

A memo is being sought for the unit. Suggestions should be given to Logue at Hancock General Hospital or Mrs. John Green, secretary to Mayor John A. Scalfie.

The committee also discussed raising money for the unit to buy uniforms, available from the state committee at $21 each. Mayor Scalfie secured a $500 appropriation from the county board of supervisors Monday. This will be used to help the men buy uniforms and to stage any local events.

A program committee is still to be appointed to plan local events. Logue said the local events may be tied in with the garden club pilgrimage next year.

The committee will meet again Friday, April 7, at 5:30 p.m. in the hospital. Logue said
